Poem

"The Man in the Mirror" By Dale Wimbrow

If you get what you want in your struggle for self, and the world makes you king for a day, then go to the mirror and look at yourself and hear what that man has to say.
For it isn't a man's father, mother or wife whose judgment upon him must pass, but the man, whose verdict counts most in his life is the man staring back from the glass.
He's the fellow to please, never mind all the rest.
For he's with you right to the end, and you've passed your most difficult test if the man in the glass is your friend.
You can fool the whole world, down the pathway of years, and take pats on the back as you pass.
But your final reward will be heartache and tears if you've cheated the man in the glass.
